

REFERENCES

- Bloom, Benjamin S. (Ed.). (1969). Taxonomy of Educational Objectives: The classification of educational goals. New York: David McKay Company Inc.
- Campbell, C., S. Campbell, J. Collicott, D. Perner and J. Stone. (1988). Individualizing instruction. Education New Brunswick, 3 (June) pp. 17-20.
- Dickinson, W. (1988). Unpublished material on Verbal and Nonverbal Inclusion Strategies.
- Falvey, M. A., J. Coots, K. D. Bishop and M. Grenot-Scheyer. (1989). Education and curricular adaptations. In S. Stainback, W. Stainback and M. Forest (Eds.). Educating all Students in the Mainstream of Regular Education. Baltimore, Maryland: Paul H. Brookes Publishing Co., pp. 143-158.
- Fanning, L., et al. (1989). Unpublished Material on Inclusion Strategies in Districts 28 & 29, Woodstock, NB.
- Gearhart, B. R., M. W. Weishahn and C. J. Gearhart. (1988). The Exceptional Student in the Regular Classroom. Columbus, Ohio: Merrill Publishing Co.
- Johnson, D. W., R. T. Johnson and E. Johnson Holubec. (1984). Cooperation in the Classroom. Edina, Minnesota: Interaction Book Company.
- Schulz, J. B. and A. P. Turnbull. (1984). Mainstreaming Handicapped Students. Newton, Massachusetts: Allyn & Bacon, Inc.
- Wood, J. W. (1984). Adapting Instruction for the Mainstream: A sequential approach to teaching. Columbus, Ohio: Charles E. Merrill Publishing Co.